COLEMAN MURDER
CASE ON TRIAL.

Charged With Killing William Messner at Chamouni Mine.

SAME NUMBER AS EZELL'S

Man Who Killed Yardmaster Porter Was Also Obedient as No. 13 on June Term—Court Crier Foo Put on the Frills in Opening Session.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, June 12.—The June term of criminal court opened this morning with more pomp and ceremony than usually attends that event. This was possibly due to the dignity added to proceedings by Court Crier Charles M. Fox. Court Crier Fox is putting lots of snicker into his job and paying the strictest attention to court etiquette. He had secured some points for Chatterbox had been seen in action before the court this morning.

With the formalities once over, the court got down to business. Judge Unbeh is presiding over the large room while the cases in No. 2 are heard by Judge Van Swearingen. The first case taken up was that of Grant Coleman, charged with the murder of William Messner at Chamouni mine May 1. It is not yet known what defense will be made by Attorney W. E. Crow, S. R. Shelby and H. A. Cotton, who have been retained for the accused. Coleman shot Messner in the latter was passing the former's home. It is believed Coleman suspected Messner, a white man of being too intimate with his mulatto wife.

It is a peculiar circumstance that Coleman's case is No. 13 of the June term. This is the same number and name of James W. Ezell's case, which was tried some years ago. Ezell was a Leno Exe telegraph operator who killed "Yardmaster" Porter at Newell. Ezell was convicted and sentenced to hang, but received a commutation to life imprisonment.

In the Coleman case 10 jurors had been accepted up to noon and testimony may begin soon after court convenes this afternoon. District Attorney Henderson is prosecuting the case with the assistance of County Detective Alex McElhott.

The Commonwealth will contend that Coleman killed Messner in anger when the latter asked to be paid back money spent to help Coleman out of a difficulty in Washington county. Messner, a negro, asked to have gone to the Coleman home that evening to collect this money, and was shot while walking away.

There are 99 cases on the trial list for this week.

A few routine matters were disposed of by the court before court reached the Coleman case this morning. On petition the Central District & Printing Telegraph Company is permitted to cancel the $500 bond given to cover damages to Levi Brown's property in Georges township. Two bonds were filed by the Monongahela railroad, one of $1,000 to Lizzie Marcellini and one of $1,500 to Joseph Camillo, both of South Brownsville.

Attorney L. B. Brownfield was appointed master in the divorce case of John H. Dobson and Adelaide Dobson. Attorney William A. Miller was appointed master in the case of Charles Secrest against Corn Secrest.

Before Judge Van Swearingen the first case taken up was that of Raymond Capers, who is charged with breaking and entering and rape upon Ellen Laughery. The offense is said to have been committed January 1 at Fairchance.

Three witnesses were examined after the jury was finally selected and court convened following the noon recess. W. L. Dunn, a civil engineer, proved the diagram of the scene of the shooting and was relieved. Dr. H. J. Bell, the coroner, then gave the professional testimony regarding the shooting. Thomas Bell was then called. He related his meeting with Messner about 20 minutes before the shooting. He was one of the first to Messner's side after the murder, although he was not a witness.

The Capers trial came to a halt this afternoon owing to an accident which befell Ralph Brownfield, the 2-year old son of Attorney L. B. Brownfield, who was trying the case. Ralph was struck with an apple and a hemorrhage developed. Dr. W. H. Butler of Connelville was summoned in consultation and expressed belief that the child can be saved.

The will of the late James H. Storking of Mount Pleasant who died last week was filed for probate this morning. Wm. M. Sterling in the executor and Jewell G. Sterling testamentary guardian for the two minor children, James and Harry. He is a debt collector and deceased gave all his real estate holdings to his wife and children. His personal estate went over the 1000 duplicate to his wife and two sons in equal shares.

The Finance Committee of Town Council will meet with Tax Collector George B. Brown tomorrow evening for the purpose of going over the 1908 duplicate. The expenditures will be taken up and discussed.

Russian Holds
the Key to the Charlton Case

United Press Telegram.

COMO, Italy, June 12.—The police resumed searching Lake Como and have begun to dig up the remains about Charlton villa in an effort to locate the body of the missing husband of the Countess.

It is believed if Charlton was murdered, his body will be found in the lake near his wife's remains were discovered.

The authorities are divided between two theories. They say either Charlton murdered his wife or he was murdered. They think the Russian, Constantine Isopoltov, holds the key to the mystery, but he is the craftiest of prisoners and never gives any article used by the detectives to write his story from him.

DID STEVE PONVIA
ATTEMPT SUICIDE?

Or was He Shot in His Watchbox at Dunbar During Night?

THE MYSTERY IS A PUZZLE

County Detective McLaughlin Says Suicide, For Victim of Shooting Had Threatened on Saturday to Kill Himself—He Was Worried.

Mystery surrounds the shooting of Steve Ponvia, night watchman for the Pennsylvania railroad at the Dunbar Catholic Church. When Charles Jaynes, the day watchman, went to the box yesterday morning to relieve the night man, he found Ponvia unconscious on the floor with a bullet through his right lung. Dr. McKinnis and Jank attended the man, who was sent to the Cottage State Hospital. The bullet was removed from the back, where it had lodged. Ponvia may die.

Steve's story of the shooting failed to throw much light upon the mystery. County Detective McLaughlin, who conducted an investigation yesterday, declared the man attempted suicide, but there are incidents that would indicate murder may have been the cause. The presence of a woman's hair beside the wounded man is a clue that seems to support this suspicion.

Ponvia was shot by a tall man, with a stiff hat, if his story is to be believed. Steve tells other things that conflict in their relation. The revolver was found fully loaded, except for one shell, which evidently inflicted the wound. Ponvia's housekeeper identified that weapon as one that belonged to him.

County Detective Frank McLaughlin clings to the suicide theory. He has evidence that Saturday Steve threatened to kill himself and declared his conflict in their relation. The revolver was found fully loaded, except for one shell, which evidently inflicted the wound. Ponvia's housekeeper identified that weapon as one that belonged to him.

CORPSE ON COACH
DOWN THE MOUNTAIN

Body of Tramp Not Dislodged by Reeling and Swaying of No. 9.

PROBABLY HIT IN SAND PATCH

Dispatcher Discovered Body as Train Pulled Out From Depot Yesterday Morning and It Was Removed at Broad Ford—Not Identified.

His rigid body clinging in its death grip to the top of a Pullman coach hanging flimsily to the roof as the train rolled and swayed down the mountain side, an unknown man was discovered yesterday morning as No. 9 pulled out of the station here. The train was stopped at Broad Ford, where the body was removed and brought to the undertaking establishment of J. E. Sims here.

The man could not be identified. That his body was not thrown off the roof of the Pullman as the train made its swift descent from the summit of the Alleghenies is one of the marvels of railroading. The fingers were closed about the handle at one end of the coach. This death grip is believed to have prevented the body from rolling off. The body was cold and stiff, but the clothes were damp from the morning dew.

It is believed the man was killed while No. 9 made the passage through Sand Patch tunnel. Its condition indicated that life had been ebbing for several hours. The only mark found was a hole in the back of the skull. The presumption is that the man boarded the train at Cumberland and attempted to make the passage over the mountains on top of the coach. While the train rolled through the long, dark tunnel at Sand Patch, the man had evidently covered his face with his arms to prevent suffocation from the smoke and gases. He was probably struck and instantly killed by a girder at the top of the tunnel which had dropped and left itself bent clearance for his body.

It is believed the man was a Garrett Roach of Hartford, Conn. This name appeared in a cheap memorandum book found on his person. The name of John Welch, No. 10 Chestnut street, Hartford, Conn., was on the same page. On another page appeared the name "Rambling Eddie," Hammond, Ind. A schedule of the Detroit baseball team, some business cards and other papers were found, but none gave any clue as to the man's identity.

The body was discovered by one of the dispatchers at the Danville & Ohio depot who happened to look out of an upper window as the train pulled out. The cold, gray dawn of morning disclosed a huddled form on the top of the Pullman sleeper. It was too late to stop the train but the operator at Broad Ford was notified. The dispatcher making the discovery did not know the huddled mass of humanity was a corpse.

Will Watch Sanitation at Railroad Camps

There will be a number of these camps, perhaps, in the neighborhood of 20 all told. Most of them will be located close to either of the rivers.

The health authorities will be called upon to keep a close watch that every precaution in regard to proper sanitation shall be observed. There is great danger to the consumers of water below the camps if proper sanitation is not provided at the camps.

Three Railroads Join at Brownsville in Improvements

Three railroads are about to co-operate in one of the biggest improvements to be made in the Pittsburgh district this summer, involving the construction of a bridge over the Monongahela river, near Brownsville Junction; now classification yards, the elevation of another yard to a new grade, and the erection of a 10-foot concrete arch. The bridge alone will mean the expenditure of $500,000. It will be a double track bridge and have a channel span of 150 feet. The Pennsylvania, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and the Monongahela railroads are to share in the cost of the improvement, which is to connect Brownsville Junction and Brownsville. The bridge now there has been ordered removed by the War Department on the ground that it is an obstruction to navigation.

The Pennsylvania will build the bridge and establish the classification yards. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie will raise the yard at Brownsville to a new grade and the Monongahela road will build the concrete arch.

The engineers of the three roads have been working on plans for the improvement for some time and bids have been called for at the earliest possible date. The chief feature of the bridge is the construction of the bridge, which will be put up with a view to having it serve for many years. It will be a fast higher than the structure it is to replace and will be of unusually heavy construction. It will require 10,000 cubic yards of masonry and many other things.

The concrete arch that the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie is to build will carry the point where the bridge crosses the river. The Pennsylvania in the classification yard it is to build will have 30 tracks, each half a mile long. The yard will be operated on the gravity system. The Monongahela railroad will carry out an enlargement of its yards which has been contemplated for some time. In all, there will be required 30,000 cubic yards of fill to properly ballast the new terminal which will be the interchange of freight.

The work, which has been planned under the joint supervision of the engineers of the three roads interested, will be done as a single contract. The three roads will jointly own the bridge, the construction of which will cost several thousand tons of steel.

THIEVES ENTER HOUSES

At South Connelville, But Get Little for Their Work.

Friday night thieves entered the homes of Jacob Wolmer on Vine street, Robert Crouse on Hyndman street and Henry King near the Evangelical Church. At the Wolmer home they entered by raising the front window. The lower part of the house was ransacked and change taken to the amount of $2.50.

At the Crouse home they got 37 cents that Mr. Crouse had in his working pants. At the King home they only got as far as the collar. It is supposed that they were frightened away.

DEATHS.

Thomas Thorndell.

Thomas Thorndell, aged 76 years, a resident of Connelville for 11 years, died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at his late home, No. 118 East Main street. Complications of disease was the cause of his death. Mr. Thorndell was born in North Leth, England, in 1841. He came to Uniontown in 1841. At an early age he was employed as a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, Uniontown, during the pastorate of Rev. S. Smith. For many years he was the owner of a building in East Main street, where the Moran House now stands was the property of the Thorndell family. Mr. Thorndell was a number of years connected with a grocery store in East Main street, Uniontown. While a resident of Uniontown he was elected tax collector and filled the office faithfully for one year.

He was twice married. By his first wife, two children were born, one son, James Thorndell of Star Junction, surviving. Deceased was the last surviving member of the family of ten children. He was a life-long member of Connelville lodge of Odd Fellows. He was a devoted worker in Trinity Lutheran Church, but of late years he was not so active on account of his feeble health. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lucy Thorndell, Mrs. Burt Vandergift, Mrs. George Woods, Mrs. Edward White and Russell Thorndell, all of Connelville. The late George and Mrs. Thorndell were brothers of William Thorndell of Uniontown, father of Scotland and James Thorndell of West Connelville, who are brothers. Funeral services from his late home tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The body will be removed to Uniontown where the interment will take place in Oak Grove cemetery. A special street car will convey the body and funeral party to the place of interment.

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 13, 1910.

A PUBLIC MENACE AND A PUBLIC DUTY.

The Western Maryland Ad-vent in Pennsylvania brings serious menace as well as bright hope, but there is no reason why the menace should abide if the health authorities do their duty. The contracts for the construction of the road have been let and the contractors are rapidly organizing their forces for active work. Within a few weeks the banks of the Casselman and Youghiogheny rivers will be lined by thousands of workmen and dotted by hundreds of camps. The camps should be made sanitary and the workmen should observe at least ordinary precautions against polluting the waters of these rivers. It is the duty of the State Department of Health to enforce these conditions and it is the interest of Connellsville and of all other towns along these rivers to see that the law is enforced. Public safety demands that, in the performance of their public duty, the representatives of the State shall omit no precaution, neglect no duty, spare no effort.

Connellsville's filtration plant takes over 90 per cent. of the impurities from the water, but it is not proof against the germs of many infectious diseases which may readily be carried down-stream to us, and Connellsville is the only town which enjoys the protection of filtration.

KEEP COOL.

AND KEEP RIGHT. The meeting of the School Board this evening promises to be somewhat strenuous, but we hope it will be free from bitterness and personalities. Whatever is done, the members should not forget that they are occupying an official station wherein they are expected to be dignified in manner and judicial in action.

If it be shown that any previous proceedings have been unjust or unwise or illegal, it is proper to reconsider them; but reconsideration should be entered upon with decorum and without doubt. If doubt exists it should be resolved in favor of the previous action.

There are many men of many minds in this world of ours and it is not to be expected that the directors will all think alike about all things; but they should make an honest endeavor to do right as they are given to see the right, and to do it steadfastly rather than stubbornly, courteously rather than offensively; in short, to act after the manner of men of public spirit rather than of men with private grievances.

This is not intended as a rebuke to any director, or as an expression for or against any action or policy of the board, but only as a friendly suggestion concerning the manner and matter of public service. It may be summed up in a few words: Keep cool and you will usually keep right.

What with crimes and fatalities and the beginning of criminal court this promises to be a bad week.

Shad Patch tunnel's bloody record never ceases. In this respect it resembles the Kentucky.

That Uniontown race war was probably more imminent in the newspapers than anywhere else.

Brownsville seems to have been selected by the railroad interests as the northern gateway to the Lower Connellsville coke region.

The Gates robbers have been caught. Their "Open Door" policy is not the kind which is sanctioned and approved by American diplomacy or American law, and its practice has resulted in some of the accused being placed "Behind Closed Doors."

"Eggs is eggs," down McClelland-town way.

It is difficult to determine which is the greater Pennsylvania improvement at Greensburg: its new station or the elimination of the tunnel death-trap.

If the railroads are not careful, the trolley lines will have the Greensburg county coke region developed first.

Don't try to get even; try to forget it.

BACK TALK.

The Uniontown Standard recently made a plea for the rejuvenation of the National Bank and called upon the Chamber of Commerce to further the good work.

The Chamber has taken the matter up. First blood for The Standard.

The Bellevue Enterprise thinks that Connellsville's sick ordinance should be enforced or repealed.

That is the Connellsville sentiment. There is no room for argument here.

The Masontown News calls on all citizens to turn out and vote for pure water and better sanitary conditions.

The ticket is excellent. It deserves unanimous support.

The Canonsburg Notes pleads for a drinking fountain for that community. We trust the cry of The Notes will not fall upon deaf ears. A drinking fountain is the first step to the Water Wagon.

The Irish Standard wants a Board of Trade that will insure the town additional industries. "One swallow does not make a summer," and one Board of Trade does not make a town. It requires plenty of push and enterprise behind the board.

CHILDREN'S DAY IS OBSERVED.

Scottdale Churches Have Special Programs of Interest for the Day.

WESLEY CHAPEL DRAWS MANY

Carnival Company Leaves After Poor Week—Moon Phenomenon Presages Changing Weather—Window Broken in Peculiar Manner.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, June 12.—Children's Day services were held at many of the churches in town yesterday, with beautiful floral decorations and pleasing programs rendered by the little ones.
Among those where special decorations and special services were held in the churches were the Presbyterian, the Episcopal, the United Methodist, the Methodist Episcopal, the Reformed and others. This was the first time this season that flowers in a fair quantity could be obtained, although the supply new is much less than usual at this time of the year.

A Moon Phenomenon.
About 10 o'clock last evening the moon in the southwestern sky and perhaps half way up the dome of heaven was noticed to be surrounded by a luminous circle, a circle so large that the bottom nearly touched the horizon.
Such a circle was noticed by some last winter just previous to big storms, and some claim denotes a change in the weather. It could change to better weather very nicely. But it is said to presage more rain.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.
The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold their meeting at the home of Mrs. J. H. Hester, Tuesday evening. This is announced to be one of the important meetings of the body.

Children's Day at Church.
Wesley Chapel, a Methodist Episcopal Church, west of town, celebrated Children's Day yesterday. Over a hundred children and their parents bringing many people and with those that walked to the country church, filled the place to overflowing. The church was magnificently decorated.

On either side of the pulpit were pine trees, that made the smaller children utter comments on the "Christmas trees." An arch of pine was immediately over the pulpit and from the arch hung a banner with the word
"Welcome."

Professing and profusely arranged in front of the altar and at the sides.
Between each of the pine trees a bouquet formed a crown, in the center of which was a flag. The program was in charge of Superintendent William Craft, assisted by Frank Thurston and the program was nicely rendered.

A special feature was a splendid address delivered by Rev. W. E. Hester, a former boy of the community, now principal of the Christian school.

An Address.
Rev. J. E. Hester, of Acme, preached at Jacob Creek Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to a large congregation delivering a most excellent sermon. The regular pastor, Rev. Archibald Auld, left on Friday for Ohio for the purpose of the hope of renewing his health, which has been poorly of late.

Carnival in Town.
The Barnhart Carnival Company which spent last week in Elverson, closed with good business on Saturday evening and is leaving for Elverson today.
The company will show during the week. The rain made very little business for the carnival people the most of last week.

Funeral of Children.
Rev. H. H. Marshall, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Church, baptized a number of children at the services yesterday morning, in connection with a service for the deceased. The church was prettily decorated with flowers and palms, and an American flag draped the pulpit.

Funeral of a Soldier.
An interesting home ball game, according to prophecy is the one to be played this evening at the home of Mrs. W. A. Hester, who will show during the week. The rain made very little business for the carnival people the
most of last week.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this nonalcoholic medicine or known concoction, nor even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

Buy a California Farm and Make Your Own Fortune

In the fertile Sacramento Valley in California is the most productive soil on the continent. One acre there has the productive value of ten eastern acres. Everything grows—as soon as one crop is harvested, the ground is ready for another—several different crops a year being raised.

Anywhere else is there land like this?

Here the John Hester, of Pittsburgh, have recently opened up one of their largest irrigation enterprises. This is the land for you. The climate rivals that of Southern Italy. Oranges and other fruits ripen weeks earlier than in Los Angeles or Riverside.

You can secure one of these farms on remarkably easy terms —$15 a acre down. Make your home where fortunes are being made from small fruit farms—where every man is his own boss —where frost, drought, ice and snow are unknown—where the sunshine makes the oranges, figs, lemons and berries grow almost every day of the year.

This is the land you want for you. This is your opportunity to win. A handsome illustrated book entitled "California, Now or Never," which tells all about it, and of the success won by others in this very district, will be sent you for ten cents in stamps. Send for this book today.

BERLIN.

BERLIN, June 14.—Nina, the three-year-old daughter of the late Emperor and Empress, was severely hurt on the leg by falling into some broken glass while at play in the alley in the rear of the Central Hotel yesterday afternoon.

A crowd of young folks from the town had accompanied her to the Imperial Palace, and she was playing in the north of town last evening and enjoyed herself immensely for several hours. She was accompanied by her mother, the empress, and her father, the emperor, the evening a dainty luncheon was served by Mrs. Countessman. At a late hour all returned to their homes, excepting the death for a duty to return to the Countryman home.
